The Largest Global Investors

Follow VRS' Research

VRS (Valuation & Research Specialists) is pleased to announce that several of the most notable global institution portfolios systematically follow its company research and valuations. VRS research reports cover both listed and non-listed companies in Greece as well as globally.

Specifically, the institutional investors that follow VRS' research on Greek companies are well-known in Greece, as they have been active, directly or indirectly, in the domestic capital market during the last 15 years.

Greek listed companies have remained as a focus in the broader interest of global investors, while portfolios of private equity funds, hedge funds and venture capital funds from markets such as the U.S. and Europe, are expressing particular interest for non-listed companies such as dynamic growth companies and startups.

VRS is the only independent research house based in Greece, applying in-depth analysis and valuing companies that are of interest for global investors. It is noted that VRS research reports are addressed exclusively to global institutional portfolios.
